

IOWS LITTLE INTEREST IN HIS DEATH WARRANT

Don't Care" Only Comment Offered by Jan Ribarik

WARRANT FOR TOBACCO

Expresses More Concern in Cigaretts Than He Does in Coming Execution

His apparent indifference to death Ribarik Monday evening heard R. G. Lutton read the official warrant directing that he as convicted murderer of three, pay penalty of his crime on the gallows June 11, between the hours of 9 a. m. and 3 p. m. After the warrant had been interpreted to him with a deprecatory shrug, he don't care. Must die one time or another," and turned about to ask for a cigar.

He expressed more anxiety about his cigarettes and a bit of sympathy he had left in his cell than he about his execution.

When Lutton received the ominous death document from Gov. J. Penrose Monday. It was 8 o'clock in the evening when the condemned prisoner was handcuffed to an officer led from his cell in the county jail to an obscure corner. Ingressed heavy paper and with its great seal the official death warrant an impressive looking instrument, but Ribarik showed absolute concern.

A dozen men grouped about the prisoner when Sheriff Lutton started to read the paper. All but Ribarik of their hats. The sheriff read by and impressively, Ribarik looking stolid and indifferent. Then turning to the others with their hats off he glanced about with a sheepish grin. Then again he hearkened to the reading. Ribarik did not flinch even when the date of the execution fell from the lips of the reader. Ribarik nodded his head at the finish and said he understood, having read the date in the paper. An interpreter was present he repeated the contents to the deaf man. Ribarik appeared indifferent, and when the interpreter had promptly asked for some tobacco and cigarettes that he had left in his cell. He was placed in another cell.

Sheriff Lutton asked Ribarik if he wanted to see a priest but the condemned man shook his head and said a priest would do him no good.

When asked if he cared to write a letter to his daughter Antonia of Harrisburg that Ribarik suddenly shed himself from his indifference. His eyes flashing, his hand raised, he died within a few weeks broke a torrent of oaths denouncing his daughter in the bitterest terms. Several minutes before he died he was quiet and then he entered cell which will be his home until day of the execution, turning but ask the officials to be sure to bring tobacco.

SECURING PROMISE OF FUNDS

Committee Preparing For County Sunday School Convention

CABINET HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of members of the executive cabinet of the Charleroi district, Washington County Sunday School association at the First Christian church Monday evening, a report was made by Dr. F. C. Stahlman that the finance committee, of which he and J. D. Berryman are members had begun the work of soliciting subscriptions for the coming Sunday School convention in June. He stated that the committee would get to work in earnest today. Considering the sentiment expressed thus far, little trouble is expected in securing sufficient subscriptions.

It is the intention to have a concert given the day preceding the opening of the convention, the proceeds of which will go towards bearing the expenses.

It was decided that if agreeable to the church board of trustees the Christian church would be used as a registration place for delegates. The music and publicity committees were given the work of preparing the programs for the convention.

A meeting will be held next Thursday with women representatives of the various churches, to talk over the matter of providing lunch and supper for delegates.

NUMEROUS OFFENDERS CAUGHT AT MONESSEN

Borough Lockup in Need of Enlargement if Rush Continues—Forty-one Arrests Made in Few Hours

If the evidences at hand are to be believed and taken as prophecy Monessen voters will soon have an opportunity to express their opinion on the matter of building a new lockup that will accommodate but few less than the Westmoreland county jail. Offenders are so numerous they say over three and arrests are so frequent that one of two things is certain, either the borough jail will have to be enlarged, or they will have to rent rooms in which to keep prisoners.

For instance on last Saturday night and Sunday morning there were 41 erring individuals counted as the toll of the ever vigilant police. First picking was a house where five women were entertaining as many male friends. The police unceremoniously entered it is stated just at the time when matters were growing interesting. Another establishment was visited by the police with the result that two women and several visitors were taken in tow. Then, elated by their success the police gum-shoed to the Wireton end of Monessen. Into a house they crept and into a room where there were various things to divert one's attention. Doses, windows, small cracks, etc., swallowed several of the visitors, but at that the police carried away one dusky maiden and five "gentlemen" callers. Without the knowledge apparently that there was a regular army of police employed at Monessen, one of the prisoners tried to make his escape, going to the extreme it is stated of putting a gun on the guardian of the peace. He wasn't allowed to depart in peace.

The finish of the night's campaign was at a Slavish boarding house where a raid was pulled off in a big card game. A dozen participants were placed under arrest.

MAY REDUCE SIZE OF PAPER MONEY

Secretary MacVeagh Prepares Recommendations to Congress

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh will soon recommend to Congress that the paper money of the United States be substantially reduced in size and every denomination made uniform in design. It is contemplated to make all notes 6 by 2 1/2 inches, a reduction of one third in size, the present dimensions being 7.25 by 3.04 inches.

The proposed plan would reduce the number of designs for United States notes and silver certificates from 19 to 9. MacVeagh estimates that the changes would result in a saving of more than $600,000 annually.

The Secretary of the Treasury could make the innovation with respect to the United States notes and certificates without the consent of Congress, but it would require the consent of that legislative body to change the design of the National Bank notes. A uniform National Bank note instead of the multiplicity of designs now in use by the 7,000 banks will be proposed.

INVESTIGATES SALE OF OLEO

Special Agent Jenkins Finds County Seat Dealers Live up to Law

John Jenkins special agent of the Dairy and Food division was in Washington Monday and was calling on various dealers handling oleomargarine he found that the dealers are hewing closely to the line laid down by the law governing the sale of this substitute for butter. The new regulations in force since March 1 are far more stringent, a decision handed down on that date by the superior court in Philadelphia forbidding the use of any yellow coloring matter whatever in the oleo sold thereafter. The State Dairy and Food division keeps close tab on the selling of oleo in the State and for any infringement of the law the offender is subject to prompt prosecution.

CHARLEROI PLANT TO BE PATTERNS

New Kensington to Have Filtration System Installed This Summer

The contract has been let by the New Kensington Water company for the construction of a filtering plant, a New Kensington man being the successful bidder. Work will be started next week and the plant is to be completed by December 15.

Soon after the Charleroi filtration plant was completed a party of about 50 New Kensington citizens were sent here to inspect it. They were much attracted by its workings, and one result is that they will probably get one similar to it. The personnel of the New Kensington Water company directors, it is stated is identical with those of the Charleroi Water company.

Harrisburg Today the Mecca of Pennsylvania Politicians

ROOSEVELT TAKES HAND

May Come Himself to Smooth Out Affairs—Question of Planks in Platform

Harrisburg today is the Mecca of politicians, and Washington county will be recognized in force at the State capital when the Republican convention meets for the election of State officials and the reorganization of the clans. While there will be no opposition to the election of the Roosevelt delegates at large to the national Republican convention, there bids fair to be the tallest kind of a scrap over the nomination of the State officers, the election of a State chairman and national committeeman and the adoption of a State platform.

Under the leadership of former Senator William Flinn of Pittsburg, the Roosevelt contingent expect to control the convention, but this is not conceded at all by the regulars, who follow the lead of Senator Penrose. While the Roosevelt bunch have a majority of the delegates, the Penrose people have been gum-shoeing among them ever since the primary, and the various elements and factions who have ambitions to satisfy and debts of gratitude to pay, are expected to split the independent following to such an extent that radical measures can be introduced in the platform and to continue the control of the State organization with the Penrose element.

So confident have the Penrose people been of controlling the convention that ex-President Roosevelt himself has taken a hand. He has written a letter to Senator Flinn exhorting the so-called progressives to stand firm, and offers to come to Harrisburg in person and remain while the convention is in session. This is said to have had the effect of stiffening up the backbones of delegates who have become "wobbly." At the caucus to be held at the State capital tonight, noses will be counted and a lineup effected. This however, does not insure control of the convention by either side, and a big struggle is indicated.

Platform gossip is on the draft that the Flinn people will present at the convention. One story is that there will be the initiative and referendum, which is expected to satisfy the local option advocates who recall the fact that Flinn was with them a few years ago. One story is current that woman's suffrage is likely to be a debated point, and delegations from Philadelphia and Pittsburg will go to Harrisburg to demand hearings.

The latest advices, however, are that Flinn may drop these, although he personally announces that he is in favor of them. The big fight will be over endorsements of the national and State administrations and Flinn is expected to look after an endorsement of good roads.

One of the most interesting of the pre-convention developments is the fact that the proposition for the recall of judicial decisions, which was advocated by Colonel Theodore

ENGAGES MEN FOR MARIANNA

Big Payroll Now at Pittsburg and Buffalo Workings

RUNNING TO CAPACITY

W. S. Jones of the Pittsburg & Buffalo Coal company arrived in Monongahela last week and will make his headquarters there for two weeks. Mr. Jones is there to hire men for the Marianna mines. In the first few days Mr. Jones obtained about 450 men and part of these were taken to that mining town. At the present time 1,200 men are on the payroll of the Marianna mine, and it is expected that 1,400 will be in the employment of this company at this mine within a few days. The fact that this company has the finest houses for their men of any company in the country, will cast as a magnet to the employees. The company's houses are all wired for electric light, have water and gas, and are modern in every respect. The Marianna mine will be running to full capacity this week, and the wheels of prosperity will turn with freedom.

BRIDGE COMPANY AWARDED $75,000

The jury in the Butler county court brought in a verdict today in the Belle Vernon bridge appeal, by which $75,000 will be awarded to the bridge company. Washington and Fayette counties had set a valuation of $50,000 on it. The bridge company took an appeal and a change of value was necessary. By the decision there will be an increase of $25,000 in the amount for the bridge owners.

Overwork is the result. Outward nature asserts itself in time and female troubles appear. Such women should remember that Mrs. E. F. For nearly forty years it has been the standard remedy for such troubles.

him by Senator Flinn. It is stated that the five Roosevelt State delegates elected in Washington county will go to the convention and work for the nomination of Clark. The Washington county man, however, is said to not have one chance in a million, as the Philadelphia end of the insurgent crowd have other arrangements.

So far as the county organization is concerned the insurgents will not have any control of this body, and the committee will re-elect C. E.

Carothers chairman, if the latter is again a candidate. This is the condition over all the State. The Roosevelt crowd paid no attention to the county organizations, which will still acknowledge the leadership of Senator Penrose. This will also be a decided factor in determining the control of the State convention, and the Penrose people have somewhat more than a fighting chance to again retain the control of the State organization. It is believed that this will be one of the hottest political gatherings the State has witnessed since the so-called "Hog Combine" when the anti-Quay forces thought they had the late Senator bowled out, but who finally won in the face of great opposition. The convention may be in session a couple of days before either side wins or loses.

ROLLER SKATES TROUBLESOME

Are Innocent Cause of Street Fight at West Alexander-- Legal Action Taken

COMMUNITY INTERESTED

A feud based on roller skates and boys has arisen between two well-known families of West Alexander in this county and the entire community is anxiously watching the outcome. The principals in the trouble which has thus far reached the stage of street fight and justice court and which bids fair to go farther are Mrs. Joseph Kimmins and Scott Ritchie.

From what can be learned of the matter it seems that a number of boys, two nephews of Mrs. Kimmins in the bunch were roller skating on the walk in front of the residence of Mr. Ritchie. Ritchie became irritated by the rattle and roar of the skates and finally ordered the boys away in a way which is described as somewhat brusque.

Mrs. Kimmins learned of the matter and going up to Mr. Ritchie took him to task for what he had done. A heated argument followed and finally, it is claimed, Mr. Ritchie smote Mrs. Kimmins, breaking her eye glasses and cutting her face. Immediately thereafter Mrs. Kimmins had Mr. Ritchie arrested on charges of assault and battery. Before Justice J. S. Waltz Ritchie was fined $5 and costs.

Now it is stated Mrs. Kimmins is contemplating a damage action to cover the cost of her glasses and the doctor's bill incurred as the result of the blows which she claims Ritchie struck her.

SHOWS LITTLE INTEREST IN HIS DEATH WARRANT

Don't Care" Only Comment Offered by Jan Ribarik

ANXIOUS FOR TOBACCO

Expresses More Concern in Cigarets Than He Does in Coming Execution

With apparent indifference to death an Ribarik Monday evening heard heriff R. G. Lutton read the official death warrant directing that he as convicted murderer of three, pay the penalty of his crime on the gallows on June 11, between one hour of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. After the document had been interpreted to him, with a deprecatory shrug, he said:

"Don't care. Must die one time anyway," and turned about to ask for tobacco.

He expressed more anxiety about tobacco and cigarettes and a bit of money he had left in his cell than he did about his execution.

Sheriff Lutton received the ominous looking death document from Gov. J. C. Tener Monday. It was 8 o'clock in the evening when the condemned murderer was handcuffed to an officer and led from his cell in the county jail to an obscure corner. Engrossed on heavy paper and with its great golden seal the official death warrant was an impressive looking instrument, but Ribarik showed absolute unconcern.

A dozen men grouped about the prisoner when Sheriff Lutton started to read the paper. All but Ribarik took of their hats. The sheriff read slowly and impressively, Ribarik standing stolid and indifferent. Then noticing others with their hats off he pulled his own black felt hat from his head, glancing about with a sheepish grin. Then again he hearkened to the reading.

Ribarik did not flinch even when the date of the execution fell from the lips of the reader. Ribarik nodded his head at the finish and said he understood, having read the date in a paper. An interpreter was present and he repeated the contents to the doomed man. Ribarik appeared indifferent, and when the interpreter finished promptly asked for some tobacco and cigarettes that he had left in his cell. He was placed in another cell.

Sheriff Lutton asked Ribarik if he wished to see a priest but the condemned man shook his head and declared a priest would do him no good.

It was when asked if he cared to talk with his daughter Antonia of Canonsburg that Ribarik suddenly roused himself from his indifference. His eyes flashing, his hand raised, the man to die within a few weeks broke into a torrent of oaths denouncing his daughter in the bitterest terms. It was several minutes before he could be quieted and then he entered the cell which will be his home until the day of the execution, turning but to ask the officials to be sure to bring his tobacco.

Committee Preparing For County Sunday School Convention

CABINET HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of members of the executive cabinet of the Charleroi district, Washington County Sunday School association at the First Christian church Monday evening, a report was made by Dr. F. C. Stahlman that the finance committee, of which he and J. D. Berryman are members had begun the work of soliciting subscriptions for the coming Sunday School convention in June. He stated that the committee would get to work in earnest today. Considering the sentiment expressed thus far, little trouble is expected in securing sufficient subscriptions.

It is the intention to have a concert given the day preceding the opening of the convention, the proceeds of which will go towards bearing the expenses.

It was decided that if agreeable to the church board of trustees the Christian church would be used as a registration place for delegates. The music and publicity committees were given the work of preparing the programs for the convention.

A meeting will be held next Thursday with women representatives of the various churches, to talk over the matter of providing lunch and supper for delegates.

NUMEROUS OFFENDERS CAUGHT AT MONESSEN

Borough Lockup in Need of Enlargement if Rush Continues-Forty-one Arrests Made in Few Hours

If the evidences at hand are to be believed and taken as prophecy Monessen voters will soon have an opportunity to express their opinion on the matter of building a new lockup that will accommodate but few less than the Westmoreland county jail. Offenders are so numerous they say over three and arrests are so frequent that one of two things is certain, either the borough jail will have to be enlarged, or they will have to rent rooms in which to keep prisoners.

For instance on last Saturday night and Sunday morning there were 41 erring individuals counted as the toll of the ever vigilant police. First picking was a house where five women were entertaining as many male friends. The police unceremoniously entered it is stated just at the time when matters were growing interesting. Another establishment was visited by the police with the result that two women and several visitors were taken in tow. Then, aided by their success the police gum-shoed to the Wireton end of Monessen. Into a house they crept and into a room where there were various things to divert one's attention. Doors, windows, small cracks, etc., swallowed several of the visitors, but at that the police carried away one dusky maiden and five "gentlemen" callers. Without the knowledge apparently that there was a regular army of police employed at Monessen, one of the prisoners tried to make his escape, going to the extreme it is stated of pulling a gun on the guardian of the peace. He wasn't allowed to depart in peace.

The finish of the night's campaign was at a Slavish boarding house where a raid was pulled off in a big card game. A dozen participants were placed under arrest.

MAY REDUCE SIZE OF PAPER MONEY

Secretary MacVeagh Prepares Recommendations to Congress

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh will soon recommend to Congress that the paper money of the United States be substantially reduced in size and every denomination made uniform in design. It is contemplated to make all notes 6 by 2 1/2 inches, a reduction of one third in size, the present dimensions being 7.23 by 3.04 inches.

The proposed plan would reduce the number of designs for United States notes and silver certificates from 19 to 9. MacVeagh estimates that the changes would result in a saving of more than $600,000 annually.

The Secretary of the Treasury could make the innovation with respect to the United States notes and certificates without the consent of Congress, but it would require the consent of that legislative body to change the design of the National Bank notes. A uniform National Bank note instead of the multiplicity of designs now in use by the 7,000 banks will be proposed.

INVESTIGATES SALE OF OLEO

Special Agent Jenkins Finds County Seat Dealers Live up to Law

John Jenkins special agent of the Dairy and Food division was in Washington Monday and was calling on various dealers handling oleomargarine he found that the dealers are hewing closely to the line laid down by the law governing the sale of this substitute for butter. The new regulations in force since March 1 are far more stringent, a decision handed down on that date by the superior court in Philadelphia forbidding the use of any yellow coloring matter whatever in the oleo sold thereafter. The State Dairy and Food division keeps close tab on the selling of oleo in the State and for any infringement of the law the offender is subject to prompt prosecution.

CHARLEROI PLANT TO BE PATTERN

New Kensington to Have Filtration System Installed This Summer

The contract has been let by the New Kensington Water company for the construction of a filtering plant, a New Kensington man being the successful bidder. Work will be started this week and the plant is to be completed by December 15.

Soon after the Charleroi filtration plant was completed a party of about 50 New Kensington citizens were sent here to inspect it. They were much attracted by its workings, and one result is that they will probably get one similar to it. The personnel of the New Kensington Water company directors, it is stated is identical with those of the Charleroi Water company.

ENGAGES MEN FOR MARIANNA

Big Payroll Now at Pittsburgh and Buffalo Workings

RUNING TO CAPACITY

W. S. Jones of the Pittsburgh & Buffalo Coal company arrived in Monongahela last week and will make his headquarters there for two weeks. Mr. Jones is there to hire men for the Marianna mines. In the first few days Mr. Jones obtained about 450 men and part of these were taken to that mining town. At the present time 1,200 men are on the payroll of the Marianna mine, and it is expected that 1,400 will be in the employment of this company at this mine within a few days. The fact that this company has the finest houses for their men of any company in the country, will cast as a magnet to the employees. The company's houses are all wired for electric light, have water and gas, and are modern in every respect. The Marianna mine will be running to full capacity this week, and the wheels of prosperity will turn with freedom.

The jury in the Butler county court brought in a verdict today in the Belle Vernon bridge appeal, by which $75,000 will be awarded to the bridge company. Washington and Fayette counties had set a valuation of $50,000 on it. The bridge company took an appeal and a change of venue was necessary. By the decision there will be an increase of $25,000 in the amount for the bridge owners.

Harrisburg Today the Mecca of Pennsylvania Politicians

ROOSEVELT TAKES HAND

Harrisburg today is the Mecca of politicians, and Washington county will be recognized in force at the State capital when the Republican convention meets for the election of State officials and the reorganization of the plans. While there will be no opposition to the election of the Roosevelt delegates at large to the national Republican convention, there bids fair to be the tailiest kind of a scrap over the nomination of the State officers, the election of a State chairman and national committeeman and the adoption of a State platform.

Under the leadership of former Senator William Flinn of Pittsburgh, the Roosevelt contingent expect to control the convention, but this is not conceded at all by the regulars, who follow the lead of Senator Penrose. While the Roosevelt bunch have a majority of the delegates, the Penrose people have been gum-shoeing among them ever since the primary, and the various elements and factions who have ambitions to satisfy and debts of gratitude to pay, are expected to split the independent following to such an extent that radical measures can be introduced in the platform and to continue the control of the State organization with the Penrose element.

So confident have the Penrose people been of controlling the convention that ex-President Roosevelt himself has taken a hand. He has written a letter to Senator Flinn exhorting the so-called progressives to stand firm, and offers to come to Harrisburg in person and remain while the convention is in session. This is said to have had the effect of stiffening up the backbones of delegates who have become "wobbly." At the caucus to be held at the State capital tonight, noses will be counted and a lineup effected. This however, does not insure control of the convention by either side, and a big struggle is indicated.

Platform gossip is on the draft that the Flinn people will present at the convention. One story is that there will be the initiative and referendum, which is expected to satisfy the local option advocates who recall the fact that Flinn was with them a few years ago. One story is current that woman's suffrage is likely to be a debated point, and delegations from Philadelphia and Pittsburgh will go to Harrisburg to demand hearings.

The latest advices, however, are that Flinn may drop these, although he personally announces that he is in favor of them. The big fight will be over endorsements of the national and State administrations and Flinn is expected to look after an endorsement of good roads.

One of the most interesting of the pre-convention developments is the fact that the proposition for the recall of judicial decisions, which was advocated by Colonel Theodore

PLAYING FAIR.

Whatever may be said about Senator Penrose's political leadership in Pennsylvania, it will be observed that he is playing fair so far as the sentiment of the people is concerned. He is making no attempt to interfere with the election of the delegates at large to the National convention, as the voters at the primary decided
very conclusively that their choice
was for Col. Roosevelt for President.
Instead of Taft, whom Senator Penrose favored. Because people may differ as to a choice of candidates within the party ranks does not of necessity cause an irreparable breach.

In declaring for Roosevelt the voters did not declare against the leadership of Senator Penrose. They were emphatic in expressing their preference contrary to that of their heretofore accepted leader, but this does not of necessity imply a repudiation of Senator Penrose as a leader.
On the contrary, Senator Penrose's disposition to accept the decision of the voters in the proper spirit and go along with the party puts him in a position to inspire a greater degree
of confidence on the part of the people as a leader than ever before.
There is no reason for him to rein-quish his leadership because of this difference. He will play fairer with the people than any of the disgruntled politicians who are seeking his toga,
and that he will fight to retain his
leadership is but a natural conclusion.
All talk about the repudiation of Senator Penrose as a leader by the Republican party is the shrewdest nonsense. The people declared for Roosevelt—not against Penrose. Senator Penrose stands for all the rational progressive measures that the people demand, and Pennsylvania, in comparison with other States ranks
among the foremost in this respect.
The recent test of the primary law

was sufficient to demonstrate to the rest of the country that our Commonwealth is far ahead of the most of the States in the direct rule of the people.

NO THOROUGHFARE.

In shutting off communications
with Charleroi on the south a big inconvenience has been inflicted. In a couple of months or so it is hoped that the proposed curb market will be established in Charleroi. If the project materializes, one section of the country will be effectively debarred for a large part of the season from taking part. In constructing a new bridge across Maple creek no mean-is provided for vehicles to cross and the only way they can get in and out of Charleroi is to drive several miles out of the way.

This omission is an expensive one for the town. Bad roads have annually exacted a big toll from the normal business and this extra obstacle comes at a most inopportune time. Bad roads are bad enough, and the Speers road is one of the worst
but it is better at times than no road
at all, and to have it closed up entirely at the beginning of the spring and summer season is practically equivalent to closing down an industry. It is to be hoped that some arrangement
can be speedily made that will overcome this inconvenience.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Did you ever see a newspaper man
who would talk about false statements as "just newspaper talk?"
We never did, but we have seen two or three curiosities who posed as such.

Some of the delegates actually need instructions how to act in the coming State Republican convention and nobody knows it better than Penrose.

Like in recovering insurance, a man has to die to win praise.

There is only one way two can live cheaper than one, and that is by both working.

The Altoona Times has a column,
an exchange states, "Back to the Town." It's a good phrase, but how in the world are they going to get people there after they have left and
seen other places?

Paris seems to have very peculiar ideas of gayness.

Undoubtedly a ramp convention is a game two can play at.

It is usually easier to raise a quarrel than it is to raise the money
for paying the fine.

A Trafford man who was hurt by a train jumped from a window while on the way to a hospital. How are you going to make a man like that
be patient?

Becoming a Congressman at large doesn't differ materially so far as
the difficulty of attainment is concerned from making the race as a candidate in a specified district.

All of us are sinners of course, and all of us have the Phariseal notion that our neighbor is a whole lot worse than we are.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Dr. F. C. Stahlman, relates a story of an old Virginia negro who was called before a judge as a witness for another negro. The latter had gone astray to the extent that he was facing a long term in jail for appropriating certain property without first securing a legal transfer of the same.
The witness started off in great shape.

"But now tell about Sam's domestic life; does he work?" inquired the attorney for the opposing side.

"No sah, he doan work; Sam's well
off."

"Well off! Now, does he have a thousand dollars?"

"Thousand' dollars! Lans sakes!
dat man neber seen dat much money
Har! Har!"

"But does he have five hundred dollars?" persisted the attorney."

"Does he have one hundred dollars,
or fifty, say?"

"No sah, he doan habe dem neither."
"Well then, how do you make h'm well off, when he hasn't any money?"

"Oh, boss, dat's easy. Why dat man's got de bes' washervoman in seventy seven States."

"Charleroi is now an island," remarked Councilman W. H. Calvert.
We are most effectively cut off from the outside world. "We have the river on one side, a toll bridge at one end, bad roads on all other sides, and worst of all no means of crossing Maple creek on the south to drive to Speers or other upriver points. Instead of calling our town the 'Magic City,' I think it would be more proper to call it the 'Magic Isle.'"

Then the councilman gave vent to his wrath because no provisions were made in awarding the contract for the erection of the bridge across Maple creek for means of crossing the stream while the new bridge is in the course of construction. This mission is causing a big lot of inconvenience to the traveling public who, as Mr. Calvert says, cannot drive between Charleroi and Speers without going several miles around on bad
country roads.

WHY WOMEN GO TO PRISON

Most of Them En Through Idleness,
Unwise Marriages, Ignorance, Youth
and Friendliness.

The causes that bring women to prison are seldom of personal or even
of direct moral significance. Women seldom use their wits to break the law,
nor do most of their crimes demand a quick intelligence. They are in the main the result of a lack of training in trades, inconsidered marriages, ignorance, youth, friendliness, the
general unguided condition of girls;
non-employment, low wages, overcrowding in tenements, nervous tension, and the high-pressure life of the average female factory employee.
These and other like causes produce the so-called artificial offenses, such as inebriety, unruliness, and minor breaches of the law which are mostly the result of overstrain. It has often been said that the barometer of
crime rises as that of prosperity falls,
and this is particularly true as regards the crimes of women. The thousands of women factory workers in every manufacturing city are never more than a few days from actual want. Given a period of overproduction or a depression in trade, and the women's prisons fill with these despairing, idle workers. In New England, when the factories are running
with a full force of operatives, there is a decided slump in the prison population, for all goes well with even these weaker spirits so long as they earn enough to eat every day and have a place to sleep every night.—

Prisons," by Jeanne Robert, in the American Review of Reviews.

Where Wesley Wrote Hymns.
The Rev. J. H. Wicksteed, vicar of Bexley, Kent, England, has presented to the Wesleyan Methodists of Gravesend and Dartford circuit a tree from
the vicarage garden, a sapling of the old oak under whose branches John
and Charles Wesley, with George Whitefield, often met in friendly conference.

It is believed that Charles Wesley composed some of his hymns under its shadow, and John, in his diary of September 22, 1740, writes: "I went to Mr. Piers, the vicar of Bexley, where in the mornings and evenings
I expounded the sermon on the mount
and had leisure during the rest of the day for business of other kinds." He was there again Saturday, December
3, 1749, "and preached about 11."

Exchange of Labor.
Miss Martha Leland Sherwin, daughter of George W. Sherwin of the First National bank, is four years old. She is a very polite little girl—much more so than her brother, Jim, whose age-record barely takes him beyond half-past-one. Being a boy, Jim assumes every prerogative of boyhood and
lords it over his elder sister mightily.
In this difficult position Martha has proposed a plan of operation to her mother.
"I'll tell you what let's do, mother,"
she suggested. "We'll just send Jim down to the bank and then father can stay at home and play with me."—

MAKES GOOD HATPIN HOLDER

Glass Tube, With Ribbon Adornments,
Best Receptacle That Can
Be Provided.

Sticking one's hatpins into the pin cushion generally results in the ruin
of a dainty cover and very much detracts also from the attractive and harmonious effect of the dressing table. It is much wiser to have a special receptacle for them.

A very pretty and useful hatpin holder can be made by covering a glass tube with ribbon. These tubes can be bought at many of the large shops. They are just long enough to hold the hatpins, are closed at the bottom and finished at the top with a little liplike rim. After buying the glass buy ribbon to match the decorations of your room just wide enough to make a cover for the glass by sewing two pieces together. The cover may be either the length of the tube
and put on smooth, or it may be longer and shirred on each side. The latter way is prettier, but it will catch dust and must be frequently brushed out.

At the bottom of the case the ribbon is gathered together tightly, and
either a tassel sewed on or a bunch of bows of baby ribbon. At the top it is finished by hemming each piece of ribbon separately, not sewing the pieces together. The hem must be wide enough to come out beyond the rim of the glass. A long loop of the baby ribbon is sewed at the top of each seam to hang the case up, or one piece of ribbon may be used, an end sewed at each side. In either case a small bunch of bows is used as a finish where the ribbon is sewed.

When the ribbon case is finished slip in the tube, which should be a close fit. If there is nothing in the room that seems convenient to hang
the case on it is a good plan to buy a long brass hook at a hardware shop
and screw it into any appropriate place, such as a door or window frame. An important point to be remembered is always to put your hat-
pins in the case when taking them out of your hat. You will then never have to hunt for the right pins for a certain hat.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of cur-

given up by scientists, many different salves have been tried for skin diseases.
But it has been found that these salves

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone
who is old enough to read, who has not seen that sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't
the railroad let the sign rot away? Why does the railroad then continue to keep those signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant,
"Most everybody knows my store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need more advertising than the railroads need to warn people to
"Look Out for the Cars."

Nothing is ever completed in the advertising world.

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are continually advertising—and they are continually doing a good business.

If it pays to run a few ads "round about Christmas time, it certainly will pay you to run advertisements about all the time.

It's just business, that's all, so

OPENING PART FINE SPECTACLE

Ringling Circus, to Appear
Here Shortly, Begins
Elaborately

Ringling Brothers' Greatest Shows is coming to Charleroi on Saturday, May 18. Their performance this season begins with an elaborate and costly spectacular production of "Joan of Arc" which employs in itself 1,200 persons, 600 horses and a trainload of special scenery and stage properties. This spectacle cost the showmen $500,000. It is an attraction that should draw immense crowds to the city on show day, for nothing like it has ever been seen in this country.

The Ringling circus is twenty-nine years old this season. The first performance was given in Baraboo, Wisconsin, on April 5, 1883. The tent was home-made. The seats were planks borrowed from a lumber yard. The five brothers made all their ring "props." They had but one horse. It was a very small beginning, but it was an earnest endeavor. Simple as it all seems it was enough to make them sufficient money to start out the following year with a bright little show. A few years later they made their first tour with a railroad show. From then on, in spite of bitter opposition of rival concerns, the five showmen forged ahead. It was not very long until their opponents found themselves on the defensive side of the game. The Ringlings had come to stay.

The rest of their history reads like a miracle. Beginning with nothing they have built the greatest amusement enterprise in the history of the world. Their wonderful popularity and success can be traced principally to two things: They were "on the square" with the people, and they had the peculiar talents that achieve greatness. The name of Ringling is a guarantee of satisfaction. Their word is as safe as the figures on Uncle Sam's money.

In its dress the circus this year presents an inspiring picture. The show grounds are a city of a thousand wonders. All the great talent of the world shows itself in the performance. The foreign agents of the show engaged the company with but very few exceptions. Of the 375 performers there are not 100 who were ever seen in America before this season.

The brilliant new three-mile parade was built last winter in the foreign workshops of the circus at Stoke-on-Trent, England. It is a world's fair of wonders, gathered from the five continents of the globe. Nearly 1,300 people 650 horses, forty elephants and several hundred floats, tableaux, open cages, fairy art vans and band chariots appear in it. The new menagerie is a complete garden of zoology. There are more than 1,000 specimens. The star attraction in this department is "Big Fritz," the tallest giraffe that ever lived.

Former Riverman Dead.

James Hazlett Mullin, 71 years old died at his home at Monongahela Saturday evening. He was a well known riverman, and had been in former years active in business circles of the valley. The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 o'clock with interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

"EIGHTS" ARE THEIR HOODOOS

Postal Clerks Say Stamps of That Denomination Cause Them Much Financial Loss.

When a meek little man stepped up to the stamp window in a branch office and asked for an eight cent stamp he caused as much consternation as if he had demanded "your money or your life."

All the clerks came to the window to take a look at him. They muttered to one another and made strange and fantastic signs, crossed their fingers, knocked on wood and did various other things that are supposed to drive away evil spirits.

"We're just out of eight cent stamps," a clerk finally stammered. "Got lots of two and one."

"Well, gimme a five and a three," said the meek little man, upon receiving which he paid for them and departed.

"What's the matter with the eights?" queried an inquisitive spectator.

The stamp clerk was still too nervous to answer, but one of the others said, with a smile:

"Eights are hoodoos. None of the small offices handle them if they can help it. It's this way: They are just a wee shade different in color from the ones and it is no infrequent thing for a stamp clerk in a hurry to hand out a lot of eights when ones are asked and paid for. It always costs him seven cents a stamp when he does it. The clerk here the other day, during the rush hour, when the offices are closing, was called upon for a dollar's worth of ones. He handed out a hundred eights instead. Cost him seven dollars. Then he got rid of all the rest of the eights and now he won't have anything to do with eights. Even says 'eaten' instead of 'ate'."

Revenge for Her Sex.

Many men make a business of marrying women, securing their money and then deserting them. One woman in New England has taken it upon herself to avenge the wrongs of her sex in this line. This woman, who is described as "young, handsome and winning," is charged with having "fitted" from one military post to another, making her choice from the eligible young officers, captivating them, becoming the bride of each in turn, securing all the money possible from each and then "fitting" again. She has shown that the opposite sex has no monopoly in this sort of business. But whether she is actuated by desire to prove such condition or by purposes of gain is not made evident.—Chicago Journal.

The "Civil War."

Hereafter it may be officially "the Civil war" instead of "the war of the rebellion." If an amendment to a bill adopted by the house of representatives at Washington shall go through. The action is not of much moment one way or another. The American public have dropped into the habit of calling the great struggle the Civil war, and no one will seriously oppose the new usage in congressional enactments. In fact, the change is in its way significant of the better feeling and stronger nationality that have succeeded those four years of bloody strife.

Plea for Lives of Birds.

"One billion dollar loss each year is suffered by farmers and fruit growers of this country by reason of the reckless and senseless destruction of bird life," declared the president of the League of American Sportsmen, Pa. He is a recognized authority on the subject of American game and declares that reliable statistics show that the crop values of the country are $1,000,000,000 a year less than they would be if birds were as plentiful as formerly, so that more insect pests would be destroyed.

Laments Forgotten Art.

We have a great many amateur hunters nowadays, and not all of them understand how to blow a horn, or have the knowledge of the few calls which are in these degenerate times used in hunting. Even among professional hunters the science of the hunting horn is much neglected.—London Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.

Unmarried Women in Cities.

In Chicago, out of every 1,000 women in the age period from 25 to 29, at the last count, there were 314 who were unmarried. In Denver there were 381. In Manhattan and the Bronx there were 356. In Minneapolis there were 369. In Philadelphia there were 387.

TO RELIEVE THE HICCUGHS

Sucking Ice or Taking Salt and Vinegar Often Will Cure Simple Cases.

Simple cases of hiccough are often relieved by such measures as sucking ice or taking salt and vinegar. Putting the tongue forward and holding it for some time is an effective procedure.

Sometimes obstinate hiccough is relieved when the patient is strong by having him hang with the arms extended and grasping some beam or pole, so that his feet do not touch the floor. With all the abdominal muscles tense, have him hold his breath as long as possible.

The spelling "hiccough" is recent, being a combination of the syllables "hic" and the latter term of "cough," which is without either physiological or etymological basis; the pronunciation, with perhaps the rarest exception, is still that of the older form "hiccup," earlier given variously as "hickup," "hickupenickup," "hickop," "hickcock," "hichcock" and "hickett," with quasi-diminishing suffixes such as "etc." but the "hick," a syllable aptly expressive of the spasmodic sound produced by the conditions giving rise to the particular disturbance, is found in all references to the origin of the term which the writer has been able to obtain. The term singultus is rarely used.—New York Medical Journal.

How Some Explosions Are Caused.

It has been discovered that when the atmosphere is just right, or possibly just wrong, a man may start his own explosion. The American Museum of Safety says that many persons are able to throw off a spark of electricity on the principle of static energy. A metallic funnel or any piece of metal in their hands will form an electrode, so that when the funnel comes in contact with the opening of a metal can or tank containing benzine a spark is caused. If the vapor is in a proper condition or, in other words, if the mixture of air and hydro-carbon gas contains the right proportions of each an explosion occurs. Of course, people note that all such accidents can be guarded against by providing the can or tank with a fire screen or other safety device similar to those used in mines for protection against gas ignition.

Curing Forgetfulness.

I used to be very forgetful, and could not remember half the time where I had put things around the house, says a writer in Harper's Bazar. Finally I hit on this scheme.

I live in the upper flat of a two-family house, and there are just eight rooms in our flat. I got a big white sheet of paper, and wrote on it the names of the eight rooms, and beside the name of each room I wrote the name of a certain place in that room. I decided that every time I put anything out of my hands for a minute I would put it in the place beside the name of that room on the paper.

The paper I tacked up in a conspicuous place in my own room. By using this system I always knew just where to look for things, and after a little while I got so in the habit of putting things in certain places and of remembering where I put them that I no longer needed the paper.

Roosevelt in his "Charter of Democracy," at Columbus, Ohio, will not be one of the planks to be incorporated in the platform at the Republican State convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday, if the present plans of the Roosevelt State leaders are maintained.

This fact became known yesterday when it was also learned that the plan of the followers of ex-Senator Plinn of Pittsburg, is to make the platform a ringing declaration of the right of the people to rule as against "bossism." It is proposed in this connection to urge the extension of the direct primary system to all elective State offices, including Governor and United States Senator.

Ultra-progressive doctrines, however will be hotly opposed by Senator Penrose as the leader of the so-called regulars, who declared that he is in favor of progressive action when that policy is laid out along sound and true lines.

"I am entirely satisfied with the situation," said Senator Penrose. "There will be no movement to oppose the election of Roosevelt national delegates-at-large, but I am confident that the convention will never go on record as favoring those doctrines which will not meet the approval of the great body of the Republicans of Pennsylvania."

Former Congressman E. F. Acheson has a platform plank he's going to present that would make this the last Republican State convention held. It provides for the direct nomination of all party candidates in the State just as local candidates are now selected by direct vote in the counties. Since Plinn and others are committed to this sort of thing Acheson will likely get it through in a perhaps modified form.

Governor John K. Tener, has suggested a plank favoring a non-partisan ballot for the municipalities. "This would eliminate the primaries in the municipalities of the State," he said, "and would accomplish one of the greatest reforms for the people that it would be possible for them to receive. I hope to see the next Legislature write such a law into the statute books of the State."

The Penrose people, who are already on the ground at the State capital are optimistic over the outcome. They have been feeling their way carefully, and the fact that Senator Penrose is to lead the fight in person is given as an indication that he has strong reasons for believing he can control the convention. Candidates for State Treasurer and Auditor General are already on the ground, with their booms. Washington county is expected to have a candidate for State Treasurer in the person of J. Verner Clark, who it is said will have the support of former Congressman E. F. Acheson and the Washington county delegates.

The next twenty-four hours will be rife with excitement at the State capital and the contest for the control of the convention will no doubt be fought to the bitter end.

Politics Lively in Honolulu.

R. Dale Jolliffe brought to the Mail office several copies of the Hawaiian Star and the Evening Bulletin, two daily papers published at Honolulu, which had been sent him by a friend. The papers contain lively accounts of contests for territorial delegates to the Republican national convention, and charges of machine rule are made in the far-off island the same as in Pennsylvania and other States.

SHOWS LITTLE INTEREST IN HIS DEATH WARRANT

"Don't Care" Only Comment Offered by Jan Ribarik

ANXIOUS FOR TOBACCO

Expresses More Concern in Cigarets Than He Does in Coming Execution

With apparent indifference to death Jan Ribarik Monday evening heard Sheriff R. G. Lutton read the official death warrant directing that he as the convicted murderer of three, pay the penalty of his crime on the gallows on June 11, between the hours of 10 a. m. and 3 p. m. After the document had been interpreted to him, with a deprecatory shrug, he said:

"Don't care. Must die one time anyway," and turned about to ask for tobacco.

He expressed more anxiety about tobacco and cigarettes and a bit of money he had left in his cell than he did about his execution.

Sheriff Lutton received the ominous looking death document from Gov. J. K. Tener Monday. It was 5 o'clock in the evening when the condemned murderer was handcuffed to an officer and led from his cell in the county jail to an obscure corner. Engrossed on heavy paper and with its great golden seal the official death warrant was an impressive looking instrument, but Ribarik showed absolute unconcern.

A dozen men grouped about the prisoner when Sheriff Lutton started to read the paper. All but Ribarik took of their hats. The sheriff read slowly and impressively, Ribarik standing stolid and indifferent. Then noticing others with their hats off he pulled his own black felt hat from his head, glancing about with a sheepish grin. Then again he hearkened to the reading.

Ribarik did not flinch even when the date of the execution fell from the lips of the reader. Ribarik nodded his head at the finish and said he understood, having read the date in a paper. An interpreter was present and he repeated the contents to the doomed man. Ribarik appeared indifferent, and when the interpreter finished promptly asked for some tobacco and cigarettes that he had left in his cell. He was placed in another cell.

Sheriff Lutton asked Ribarik if he wished to see a priest but the condemned man shook his head and declared a priest would do him no good.

It was when asked if he cared to talk with his daughter Antonia of Canonsburg that Ribarik suddenly roused himself from his indifference. His eyes flashing, his hand raised, the man to die within a few weeks broke into a torrent of oaths denouncing his daughter in the bitterest terms. It was several minutes before he could be quieted and then he entered the cell which will be his home until the day of the execution, turning but to ask the officials to be sure to bring his tobacco.

Committee Preparing For County Sunday School Convention

CABINET HOLDS SESSION

At a meeting of members of the executive cabinet of the Charleroi district, Washington County Sunday School association at the First Christian church Monday evening, a report was made by Dr. F. C. Strahman that the finance committee, of which he and J. D. Berryman are members had begun the work of soliciting subscriptions for the coming Sunday School convention in June. He stated that the committee would get to work in earnest today. Considering the sentiment expressed thus far, little trouble is expected in securing sufficient subscriptions.

It is the intention to have a concert given the day preceding the opening of the convention, the proceeds of which will go towards bearing the expenses.

It was decided that if agreeable to the church board of trustees the Christian church would be used as a registration place for delegates. The music and publicity committees were given the work of preparing the programs for the convention.

A meeting will be held next Thursday with women representatives of the various churches, to talk over the matter of providing lunch and supper for delegates.

Interment will be in the Fayette City cemetery. Mr. Stephens' father died a few months ago. A sister survives.

NUMEROUS OFFENDERS CAUGHT AT MONESSEN

Borough Lockup in Need of Enlargement if Rush Continues--Forty-one Arrests Made in Few Hours

If the evidences at hand are to be believed and taken as prophecy Monessen voters will soon have an opportunity to express their opinion on the matter of building a new lockup that will accommodate but few less than the Westmoreland county jail. Offenders are so numerous they say over three and arrests are so frequent that one of two things is certain, either the police carried away one duster without the knowledge apparently that there was a regular army of police employed at Monessen, one of the prisoners tried to make his escape, going to the extreme it is stated of pulling a gun on the warden of the peace. He wasn't allowed to depart.

The final of the night's campaign was at a Statian boarder house where a raid was pulled off in a big card game. A dozen participants were placed under arrest.

Secretary MacVeagh Prepares Recommendations to Congress

Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh will soon recommend to Congress that the paper money of the United States be substantially reduced in size and every denomination made uniform in design. It is contemplated to make all notes 6 by 2 1/2 inches, a reduction of one third in size, the present dimensions being 7 1/2 by 3 1/4 inches.

The proposed plan would reduce the number of designs for United States notes and silver certificates from 19 to 9. MacVeagh estimates that the changes would result in a saving of more than $600,000 annually.

The Secretary of the Treasury could make the innovation with respect to the United States notes and certificates without the consent of Congress, but it would require the consent of that legislative body to change the design of the National Bank notes. A uniform National Bank note instead of the multiplicity of designs now in use by the 7,000 banks will be proposed.

INVESTIGATES SALE OF OLEO

Special Agent Jenkins Finds County Seat Dealers Live up to Law

John Jenkins special agent of the Dairy and Food division was in Washington Monday and was calling on various dealers handling oleomargarine he found that the dealers are heaving closely to the line laid down by the law governing the sale of this substitute for butter. The new regulations in force since March 1 are far more stringent, a decision handed down on that date by the superior court in Philadelphia forbidding the use of any yellow coloring matter whatever in the oleo sold thereafter. The State Dairy and Food division keeps close tab on the selling of oleo in the State and for any infringement of the law the offender is subject to prompt prosecution.

Harrisburg Today the Mecca of Pennsylvania Politicians

ROOSEVELT TAKES HAND

May Come Himself to Smooth

Outstanding Question of

Planks in Platform

Harrisburg today is the Mecca of politicians, and Washington county will be recognized in force at the State capital when the Pennsylvania convention meets for the election of State officials and the reorganization of the State. While there will be no opposition to the election of the Roosevelt delegates at large to the national Republican convention, there is fair to be the latest kind of a scrap over the nomination of the State officers, the election of a State chairman and national committeeman and the adoption of a State platform.

Under the leadership of former Senator William Flinn of Pittsburg, the Roosevelt contingent expect to control the convention, but this is not conceded at all by the regulars, who follow the lead of Senator Penrose. While the Roosevelt bunch have a majority of the delegates, the Penrose people have been gum-shoeing among them ever since the primary, and the various elements and factions who have ambitions to satisfy and debts of gratitude to pay, are expected to split the independent following so such as to make the radical measures can be introduced in the platform and to continue the control of the State organization with the Penrose element.

So confident have the Penrose people been of controlling the convention that ex-President Roosevelt himself has taken a hand. He has written a letter to Senator Flinn exhorting the so-called progressives to stand firm, and offers to come to Harrisburg in person and remain while the convention is in session. This is said to have had the effect of stiffening up the backbones of delegates who have become "wobbly." At the caucus to be held at the State capital tonight, noses will be counted and a lineup effected. This however, does not insure control of the convention by either side, and a big struggle is indicated.

Platform gossip is on the draft that the Flinn people will present at the convention. One story is that there will be the initiative and referendum, which is expected to satisfy the local option advocates who recall the fact that Flinn was with them a few years ago. One story is current that woman's suffrage is likely to be a debated point, and delegations from Philadelphia and Pittsburg will go to Harrisburg to demand hearings.

The latest advices, however, are that Flinn may drop these, although he personally announces that he is in favor of them. The big fight will be over indorsements of the national and State administrations and Flinn is expected to look after an indorsement of good roads.

One of the most interesting of the pre-convention developments is the fact that the proposition for the recall of judicial decisions, which was advocated by Colonel Theodore

CHARLEROI PLANT TO BE PATTERN

New Kensington to Have Filtration System Installed This Summer

The contract has been let by the New Kensington Water company for the construction of a filtering plant, a New Kensington man being the successful bidder. Work will be started next week and the plant is to be completed by December 15.

Soon after the Charleroi filtration plant was completed a party of about 50 New Kensington citizens were sent here to inspect it. They were much attracted by its workings, and one result is that they will probably get one similar to it. The personnel of the New Kensington Water company directors, it is stated is identical with those of the Charleroi Water company.

Recently he was engaged in a wholesale cleanup in Greensburg, where seven arrests were made for law violations.

ENGAGES MEN FOR MARIANNA

Big Payroll Now at Pittsburg and Buffalo Workings

RUNING TO CAPACITY

W. S. Jones of the Pittsburg & Buffalo Coal company arrived in Monongahela last week and will make his headquarters there for two weeks. Mr. Jones is there to hire men for the Marianna mines. In the first few days Mr. Jones obtained about 450 men and part of these were taken to that mining town. At the present time 1,200 men are on the payroll of the Marianna mine, and it is expected that 1,400 will be in the employment of this company at this mine within a few days. The fact that this company has the finest houses for their men of any company in the country, will cast as a magnet to the employees. The company's houses are all wired for electric light, have water and gas, and are modern in every respect. The Marianna mine will be running to full capacity this week, and the wheels of prosperity will turn with freedom.

The jury in the Butler county court brought in a verdict today in the Belle Vernon bridge appeal, by which $75,000 will be awarded to the bridge company. Washington and Fayette counties had set a valuation of $50,000 on it. The bridge company took an appeal and a change of venue was necessary. By the decision there will be an increase of $25,000 in the amount for the bridge owners.

PLAYING FAIR.

Whatever may be said about Senator Penrose's political leadership in Pennsylvania, it will be observed that
he is playing fair so far as the sentiment of the people is concerned. He
is making no attempt to interfere
with the election of the delegates at
large to the National convention, as
the voters at the primary decided
very conclusively that their choice
was for Col. Roosevelt for President,
instead of Taft, whom Senator Pen-
rose favored. Because people may differ as to a choice of candidates
within the party ranks does not of
necessity cause an irreparable breach.

In declaring for Roosevelt the
voters did not declare against the leadership of Senator Penrose. They were emphatic in expressing their
preference contrary to that of their
heretofore accepted leader, but this does not of necessity imply a repudiation of Senator Penrose as a leader.
On the contrary, Senator Penrose's disposition to accept the decision of
the voters in the proper spirit and go
along with the party puts him in a position to inspire a greater degree
of confidence on the part of the people as a leader than ever before.
There is no reason for him to relinquish his leadership because of this difference. He will play fairer with the people and any of the disgruntled
politicians who are seeking his toga,
and that he will fight to retain his
leadership is but a natural conclusion.

All talk about the repudiation of
Senator Penrose as a leader by the Republican party is the sheerest nonsense. The people declared for Roosevelt—not against Penrose. Senator Penrose stands for all the rational progressive measures that the
people demand, and Pennsylvania, in comparison with other States ranks
among the foremost in this respect.
The recent test of the primary law

was sufficient to demonstrate to the rest of the country that our Commonwealth is far ahead of the most of the States in the direct rule of the people.

NO THOROUGHFARE.

In shutting off communications
with Charleroi on the south a big inconvenience has been inflicted. In a couple of months or so it is hoped that the proposed curb market will be established in Charleroi. If the project materializes, one section of the country will be effectually debarred
for a large part of the season from taking part. In constructing a new bridge across Maple creek no meaning is provided for vehicles to cross and the only way they can get in and out of Charleroi is to drive several miles
out of the way.

This omission is an expensive one
for the town. Bad roads have annually exacted a big toll from the
normal business and this extra obstacle comes at a most important time. Bad roads are bad enough, and
the Speers road is one of the worst
but it is better at times than no road
at all, and to have it closed up entirely at the beginning of the spring and
summer season is practically equivalent to closing down an industry. It is to be hoped that some arrangement
can be speedily made that will overcome this inconvenience.

ELECTRIC SPARKS

Did you ever see a newspaper man
who would talk about false statements as "just newspaper talk?"
We never did, but we have seen two
such.

Some of the delegates actually
need instructions how to act in the coming State Republican convention
and nobody knows it better than Pen-
rose.

Like in recovering insurance, a man has to die to win praise.

There is only one way two can
live cheaper than one, and that is by
both working.

The Altoona Times has a column,
an exchange states, "Back to the Town." It's a good phrase, but how
in the world are they going to get people there after they have left and
seen other places?

Paris seems to have very peculiar
ideas of gayness.

Undoubtedly a rump convention is
a game two can play at.

It is usually easier to raise a quarrel than it is to raise the money
for paying the fine.

A Trafford man who was hurt by a
train jumped from a window while
on the way to a hospital. How are you going to make a man like that
be patient?

Becoming a Congressman at large
doesn't differ materially so far as
the difficulty of attainment is concerned from making the race as a candidate in a specified district.

All of us are sinners of course, and
all of us have the Phariseal notion
that our neighbor is a whole lot
worse than we are.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

Dr. F. C. Stahman, relates a story of an old Virginia negro who was called before a judge as a witness for another negro. The latter had gone astray to the extent that he was facing a long term in jail for appropriating certain property without first securing a legal transfer of the same.
The witness started off in great
shape.

"But now tell about Sam's domestic life: does he work?" inquired the attorney for the opposing side.

"No sah, he doan work; Sam's well
off."

"Well off! Now, does he have a thousand dollars?"

"Thousand dollars! Lant sakes!
dat man neber seen dat much money
Har! Har!"

"But does he have five hundred dollars?"

"No sah, he doan hab no five hundred dollars?"

"Does he have one hundred dollars,
or fifty, say?"

"No sah, he doan haba dem neither."

"Well then, how do you make him well off, when he hasn't any money?"

"Oh, boss, dat's easy. Why dat man's got de bes' washwoman in sebenty seven States."

"Charleroi is now an island," remarked Councilman W. H. Calvert.
We are most effectually cut off from the outside world. "We have the river on one side, a tow bridge at one end, bad roads on all other sides, and worse of all no means of crossing Maple creek on the south to drive to Speers or other upriver points. Instead of calling our town the 'Magic City,' I think it would be more proper to call it the 'Magic Isle.'"

Then the councilman gave vent to his wrath because no provision was made in awarding the contract for
the erection of the bridge across Maple creek for means of crossing
the stream while the new bridge is
in the course of construction. This omission is causing a big lot of inconvenience to the traveling public.
Who, as Mr. Calvert says, cannot drive
between Charleroi and Speers without
going several miles around on bad
country roads.

WHY WOMEN GO TO PRISON

Most of Them En Through Idleness.
Unwise Marriages, Ignorance, Youth
and Friendliness.

The causes that bring women to prison are seldom of personal or even
of direct moral significance. Women
seldom use their wits to break the law,
nor do most of their crimes demand
a quick intelligence. They are in the main the result of a lack of training in trades, inconsiderate marriages, ignorance, youth, friendliness, the
general unguided condition of girls;
non-employment, low wages, overcrowding in tenements, nervous tension, and the high-pressure life of the average female factory employee.
These and other like causes produce
the so-called artificial offenses, such as inebriety, untruthfulness and minor breaches of the law which are mostly the result of overstrain. It has often been said that the barometer of
crime rises as that of prosperity falls,
and this is particularly true as regards the crimes of women. The thousands of women factory workers in
every manufacturing city are never
more than a few days from actual
want. Given a period of overproduction or a depression in trade, and the women's prisons fill with these despairing, idle workers. In New England, when the factories are running
with a full force of operatives, there is a decided slump in the prison population, for all goes well with even these weaker spirits so long as they
earn enough to eat every day and

Prisons," by Jeanne Robert, in the American Review of Reviews.

Where Wesley Wrote Hymns.

The Rev. J. H. Wicksteed, vicar of Bexley, Kent, England, has presented
to the Wesleyan Methodists of Graves-
end and Dartford circuit a tree from
the vicarage garden, a sapling of the old oak under whose branches John
and Charles Wesley, with George Whitefield, often met in friendly conference.

It is believed that Charles Wesley
composed some of his hymns under
its shadow, and John, in his diary of September 22, 1740, writes: "I went
to Mr. Piers, the vicar of Bexley,
where in the mornings and evenings
I expounded the sermon on the mount
and had leisure during the rest of the day for business of other kinds." He was there again Saturday, December
2, 1749, "and preached about 11."

Exchange of Labor.

Miss Martha Leland Sherwin, daughter of George W. Sherwin of the First National bank, is four years old. She is a very polite little girl—much more so than her brother, Jim, whose age-
record barely takes him beyond half-past-one. Being a boy, Jim assumes every prerogative of boyhood and
lords it over his elder sister mightily.

In this difficult position Martha has
proposed a plan of operation to her mother.

"I'll tell you what let's do, mother,"
she suggested. "We'll just send Jim
down to the bank and then father can
stay at home and play with me."—

MAKES GOOD HATPIN HOLDER

Glass Tube, With Ribbon Adornments,
Best Receptacle That Can
Be Provided.

Striking one's hairpins into the pin
cushion generally results in the ruin
of a dainty cover and very much de-
tracts also from the attractive and
harmonious effect of the dressing table. It is much wiser to have a special receptacle for them.

A very pretty and useful hatpin
holder can be made by covering a glass tube with ribbon. These tubes
can be bought at many of the large shops. They are just long enough to hold the hatpins, are closed at the bottom and finished at the top with
a little liplike rim. After buying the glass buy ribbon to match the decorations of your room just wide enough to make a cover for the glass by sewing two pieces together. The cover
may be either the length of the tube
and put on smooth, or it may be longer and shirred on each side. The latter way is prettier, but it will catcust and must be frequently brushed out.

At the bottom of the case the ribbon is gathered together tightly, and
either a tassel sewed on or a bunch
of bows of baby ribbon. At the top
it is finished by hemming each piece of
ribbon separately, not sewing the
pieces together. The hem must be
wide enough to come out beyond the
rim of the glass. A long loop of the baby ribbon is sewed at the top of
each seam to hang the case up or
one piece of ribbon may be used, an
end sewed at each side. In either case a small bunch of bows is used as a finish where the ribbon is sewed.

When the ribbon case is finished
slip in the tube, which should be a
close fit. If there is nothing in the room that seems convenient to hang
the case on it is a good plan to buy a long brass hook at a hardware shop
and screw it into any appropriate
place, such as a door or window
frame. An important point to be remembered is always to put your hat-
pins in the case when taking them out of your hat. You will then never have
to hunt for the right pins for a certain
hat.

Girl Student Wins Competition.

Miss Louise Stanwood, a special student in Radcliffe college, has won in the play competition of the Harvard Dramatic club. Miss Stanwood's play, "The Progress of Mrs. Alexan-dar," has been accepted by the club and will be presented in December.
The competition was open to both Harvard and Radcliffe students. The Emmanuel Society of Radcliffe gave three representations of "Cyrano de Bergere" last month for the benefit of the scholarship fund. Each year this society raises the money for one tuition and something toward a permanent scholarship fund. There is still lacking $5,000 to make up the permanent fund.

Why Salves Can't Cure Eczema

Since the old-fashioned theory of curing eczema through the blood has been given up by scientists, many different
salves have been tried for skin diseases.
But it has been found that these salves
only clog the pores and cannot penetrate to the inner skin below the epidermis where the eczema germs are lodged.
This is the quality of penetrating—probably explains the tremendous success of the well known liquid eczema remedy, oil of wintergreen, thymol, glycerine, etc., as compounded in D.D.D.
Prescription.

Now I look the picture of health and feel

LOOK OUT FOR THE CARS

DO YOU know of anyone
who is old enough to read, who has not seen a sign at a railroad crossing?

If everyone has seen it at some time or other, then why doesn't
the railroad let the sign rot
away? Why does the railroad company continue to keep these signs at every crossing?

Maybe you think, Mr. Merchant,
"Most everybody knows my
store, I don't have to advertise."

Your store and your goods need
more advertising than the rail-
roads need to warn people to
"Look Out for the Cars."
Nothing is ever completed in the

The Department Stores are a very good example—they are

they are continually doing a

Ringling Circus, to Appear
Here Shortly, Begins
Elaborately

Ringling Brothers' Greatest Shows is coming to Charleroi on Saturday, May 18. Their performance this season begins with an elaborate and costly spectacular production of "Joan of Arc" which employs in itself 1,200 persons, 600 horses and a trainload of special scenery and stage properties. This spectacle cost the showmen $500,000. It is an attraction that should draw immense crowds to the city on show day, for nothing like it has ever been seen in this country.

The Ringling circus is twenty-nine years old this season. The first performance was given in Baraboo, Wisconsin, on April 9, 1890. The tent was home-made. The seats were planks borrowed from a lumber yard. The five brothers made all their ring "props." They had but one horse. It was a very small beginning, but it was an earnest endeavor. Simple as it all seems it was enough to make them sufficient money to start out the following year with a bright little show. A few years later they made their first tour with a railroad show. From then on, in spite of bitter opposition of rival concerns, the five showmen forged ahead. It was not very long until their opponents found themselves on the defensive side of the game. The Ringlings had come to stay.

The rest of their history reads like a miracle. Beginning with nothing they have built the greatest amusement enterprise in the history of the world. Their wonderful popularity and success can be traced principally to two things: They were "on the square" with the people, and they had the peculiar talents that achieve greatness. The name of Ringling is a guarantee of satisfaction. Their word is as safe as the figures on Uncle Sam's money.

In its dress the circus this year presents an inspiring picture. The show grounds are a city of a thousand wonders. All the great talent of the world shows itself in the performance. The foreign agents of the show engaged the company with but very few exceptions. Of the 375 performers there are not 100 who were ever seen in America before this season.

The brilliant new three-mile parade was built last winter in the foreign workshops of the circus at Stoke-on-Trent, England. It is a world's fair of wonders, gathered from the five continents of the globe. Nearly 1,300 people 650 horses, forty elephants and several hundred floats tableaux, open cages, fairy art vans and band chariots appear in it. The new menagerie is a complete garden of zoology. There are more than 1,000 specimens. The star attraction in this department is "Big Fritz," the tallest giraffe that ever lived.

Former Riverman Dead.

James Hazlett Mullin, 71 years old died at his home at Monongahela Saturday evening. He was a well known riverman, and had been in former years active in business circles of the valley. The funeral will be held Tuesday at 2 o'clock with interment in the Monongahela cemetery.

"EIGHTS" ARE THEIR HOODOOS

Postal Clerks Say Stamps of That Denomination Cause Them Much Financial Loss.

When a meek little man stepped up to the stamp window in a branch office and asked for an eight cent stamp he caused as much consternation as if he had demanded "your money or your life."

All the clerks came to the window to take a look at him. They muttered to one another and made strange and fantastic signs, crossed their fingers, knocked on wood and did various other things that are supposed to drive away evil spirits.

"We're just out of eight cent stamps," a clerk finally stammered. "Got lots of two and ones."

"Well, gimme a five and a three," said the meek little man, upon receiving which he paid for them and departed.

"What's the matter with the eights?" queried an inquisitive spectator.

The stamp clerk was still too nervous to answer, but one of the others said, with a smile:

"Eights are hoodoos. None of the small offices handle them if they can help it. It's this way: They are just a wee shade different in color from the ones and it is no infrequent thing for a stamp clerk in a hurry to hand out a lot of eights when ones are asked and paid for. It always costs him seven cents a stamp when he does it. The clerk here the other day, during the rush hour, when the offices are closing, was called upon for a dollar's worth of ones. He handed out a hundred eights instead. Cost him seven dollars. Then he got rid of all the rest of the eights and now he won't have anything to do with eights. Even says 'eaten' instead of 'ate'."

Revenge for Her Sex.

Many men make a business of marrying women, securing their money and then deserting them. One woman in New England has taken it upon herself to avenge the wrongs of her sex in this line. This woman, who is described as "young, handsome and winning," is charged with having "fitted" from one military post to another, making her choice from the eligible young officers, captivating them, becoming the bride of each in turn, securing all the money possible from each and then "fitted" again. She has shown that the opposite sex has no monopoly in this sort of business. But whether she is actuated by desire to prove such condition or by purposes of gain is not made evident—Chicago Journal.

The "Civil War."

Hereafter it may be officially "the Civil war" instead of "the war of the rebellion," if an amendment to a bill adopted by the house of representatives at Washington shall go through. The action is not of much moment one way or another. The American public have dropped into the habit of calling the great struggle the Civil war, and no one will seriously oppose the new usage in congressional enactments. In fact, the change is in its way significant of the better feeling and stronger nationality that have succeeded those four years of bloody strife.

Plea for Lives of Birds.

"One billion dollar loss each year is suffered by farmers and fruit growers of this country by reason of the reckless and senseless destruction of bird life," declared the president of the League of American Sportsmen, Pa. He is a recognized authority on the subject of American game and declares that reliable statistics show that the crop values of the country are $1,000,000,000 a year less than they would be if birds were as plentiful as formerly, so that more insect pests would be destroyed.

Laments Forgotten Art.

We have a great many amateur hunters nowadays, and not all of them understand how to blow a horn, or have the knowledge of the few calls which are in these degenerate times used in hunting. Even among professional hunters the science of the hunting horn is much neglected.—London Illustrated Sporting and Dramatic News.

Unmarried Women in Cities.

In Chicago, out of every 1,000 women in the age period from 25 to 29, at the last count, there were 314 who were unmarried. In Denver there were 331. In Manhattan and the Bronx there were 356. In Minneapolis there were 369. In Philadelphia there were 387.

TO RELIEVE THE HICCOUGHS

Sucking Ice or Taking Salt and Vinegar Often Will Cure Simple Cases.

Simple cases of hiccough are often relieved by such measures as sucking ice or taking salt and vinegar. Pulling the tongue forward and holding it for some time is an effective procedure.

Sometimes obstinate hiccough is relieved when the patient is strong by having him hang with the arms extended and grasping some beam or pole, so that his feet do not touch the floor. With all the abdominal muscles tense, have him hold his breath as long as possible.

The spelling "hiccough" is recent, being a combination of the syllables "hic" and the latter term of "ough," which is without either physiological or etymological basis; the pronunciation, with perhaps the rarest exception, is still that of the older form "hiccup," earlier given variously as "hiccup," "hickupenickup," "hickup," "hickcock," "hishcock" and "hickett," with quasi-diminishing suffixes ack, etc.; but the "hick," a syllable aptly expressive of the spasmodic sound produced by the conditions giving rise to the particular disturbance, is found in all references to the origin of the term which the writer has been able to obtain. The term singultus is rarely used.—New York Medical Journal.

How Some Explosions Are Caused.

It has been discovered that when the atmosphere is just right, or possibly just wrong, a man may start his own explosion. The American Museum of Safety says that many persons are able to throw off a spark of electricity on the principle of static energy. A metallic funnel or any piece of metal in their hands will form an electrode, so that when the funnel comes in contact with the opening of a metal can or tank containing benzine a spark is caused. If the vapor is in a proper condition or, in other words, if the mixture of air and hydro-carbon gas contains the right proportions of each an explosion occurs. Of course, people note that all such accidents can be guarded against by providing the can or tank with a fire screen or other safety device similar to those used in mines for protection against gas ignition.

Curing Forgetfulness.
I used to be very forgetful, and could not remember half the time where I had put things around the house, says a writer in Harper's Bazar. Finally I hit on this scheme.

I live in the upper flat of a two-family house, and there are just eight rooms in our flat. I got a big white sheet of paper, and wrote on it the names of the eight rooms, and beside the name of each room I wrote the name of a certain place in that room. I decided that every time I put anything out of my hands for a minute I would put it in the place beside the name of that room on the paper.

The paper I tacked up in a conspicuous place in my own room. By using this system I always knew just where to look for things, and after a little while I got so in the habit of putting things in certain places and of remembering where I put them that I no longer needed the paper.

Roosevelt in his "Charter of Democracy," at Columbus, Ohio, will not be one of the planks to be incorporated in the platform at the Republican State convention at Harrisburg on Wednesday, if the present plans of the Roosevelt State leaders are maintained.

This fact became known yesterday when it was also learned that the plan of the followers of ex-Senator Flinn of Pittsburgh, is to make the platform a ringing declaration of the right of the people to rule as against "bossism." It is proposed in this connection to urge the extension of the direct primary system to all elective State offices, including Governor and United States Senator.

Ultra-progressive doctrines, however will be hotly opposed by Senator Penrose as the leader of the so-called regulars, who declared that he is in favor of progressive measures when that policy is laid out alone and true lines.

"I am entirely satisfied with the situation," said Senator Penrose. "There will be no movement to oppose the election of Roosevelt at national delegates-at-large, but I am confident that the convention will never go on record as favoring those doctrines which will not meet the approval of the great body of the Republicans of Pennsylvania."

Flinn and others are committed to this sort of thing. Acheson will likely get it through in a perhaps modified form.

Governor John K. Tener, has suggested a plank favoring a non-partisan ballot for the municipalities. "This would eliminate the primaries in the municipalities of the State," he said, "and would accomplish one of the greatest reforms for the people that it would be possible for them to receive. I hope to see the next Legislature write such a law into the statute books of the State."

The Penrose people, who are already on the ground at the State capital are optimistic over the outcome. They have been feeling their way carefully, and the fact that Senator Penrose is to lead the fight in person is given as an indication that he has strong reasons for believing he can control the convention. Candidates for State Treasurer and Auditor General are already on the ground, with their booms. Washington county is expected to have a candidate for State Treasurer in the person of J. Verner Clark, who it is said will have the support of former Congressman E. F. Acheson and the Washington county delegates.

Politics Lively in Honolulu.

R. Dale Jolliffe brought to the Mail office several copies of the Hawaiian Star and the Evening Bulletin, two daily papers published at Honolulu, which had been brought by a friend. The papers contain lively accounts of contests for territorial delegates to the Republican national convention, and charges of machine rule are made in the far-off island the same as in Pennsylvania and other States.
